CROP Training (Coordinated Resource Offering Protocol) Workshop

Date: Thursday
April 8, 2010

Time: 10:00 AM—2:30 PM

Cascade Fire Hall

*109 East Pine
Cascade, Idaho*

Workshop Overview

Small diameter timber is choking our forests and threatening our homes through its wildland fire potential. Improved forest health is necessary to protect our communities and industry. This workshop is designed to teach participants how to use the interactive Coordinated Resource Offering Protocol (CROP). Access to CROP data will allow you to better understand where biomass is available throughout the state. This will be a hands-on training using your lap-top computer so that you can manipulate the database. It will also show you the economics of transporting biomass to your market location.
